FORBIAN 1969

Published By Senior Class
FORBES JOINT SCHOOLS

The trails of the world be countless, and most of the trails be tried

You tread on the heels of many, till you come where the ways divide;

One trail has been followed by many, while the other has seldom been trod;

Fear not to follow the Lone Trail, if guided by the hand of God

In Memoriam

ROBERT W. BITTNER

1922-1968

In memory of Robert W. Bittner, we set apart this small portion of our yearbook as a token of our appreciation for the dedicated service he rendered to our schools and community. He was a member of both the Forbes Joint School Board and the Stoystown School Board for five years during which time he served faithfully.

Dedication

CHARLES W. LAWSON
1969 FORBIAN DEDICATEE

Forbes is indebted to one who believes in the importance of teaching not only the history of past civilizations, but also how to understand and resolve the problems we face today.

Words cannot express the admiration and gratitude which everyone, past and present, holds toward a man that has been counselor, teacher, and friend.

For the knowledge, inspiration, and service he has given us, we proudly dedicate the 1969 Forbian to Mr. Charles W. Lawson.

ADMINISTRATION

Sincerest congratulations to each member of the 1969 class of Forbes High School as you approach graduation and the realization of a most important goal in your lives! I have been privileged to work and be associated with nineteen graduating classes at Forbes. Thus, a recollection of all the graduates always brings to my mind happy associations and pleasant relationships.

The aim of education at Forbes is to provide our students with the best possible education.

The School Board, the Administrators, and the Faculty have done their best to create a stimulating climate for learning. As students, you have cooperated in order that you could reach the goal of graduation.

Automation and technological developments present challenges to you for continued growth and development. In the years ahead, try to keep alive that drive for learning and desire to excel developed during the past twelve years. In this increasingly competitive life and society, may God reward your efforts with happiness and success.

David Lichliter

With graduation you will be embarking upon a new life. You will be entering a world that is experiencing knowledge and population explosions, one that is ever so restless, and one that is considered by some to be doomed for destruction. You may not be pleased to be confronted with such a world. Nevertheless, you cannot be indifferent. Our country needs the help of our young, intelligent people. Our country needs statesmen, scientists, leaders of all kinds. You have the potential which, if released, can change the whole world for the better.

I challenge you commit yourself to the achievement of the highest and best that you can possibly be, for one man can do next to the impossible. One man can't do it by himself, but groups like you all through our country represent young people with unlimited potential. You are important. You need to dedicate yourself to the highest and the best that you know. The world that you face is your world, and you have to help solve its problems. Whatever is wrong is your challenge. And there is plenty wrong, both in our country and in the world. It will be up to you to help make it right. You will have your ballot, your influence, your work, your life to aid you in your great endeavor.

Nellie Sank

FACULTY

The work of teachers is an immeasurable task. However, what else does more for the common good of man? In today's world of computer and machine, teaching remains as the humanized art and science. Education furnishes the situation for the pupil to learn, cultivates our personalities, develops our emotions, illuminates our minds, and prepares us for our destiny in the course of human affairs. Forbes has a polished and choice teaching staff, whose guiding hand prepares us for the road ahead.

The Forbes High School Band is one of the busiest as well as most needed organizations in our school.

Mr. Mish, the director, deserves much recognition for his excellent guidance of group.

The band members, too, deserve much credit for giving their time and talents to the band. They spend much time before, during, and after school practicing for concerts, parades, and football games.

When the band performs it is obvious to see that the many hours of practice were worth while. They put on an excellent show and are really worthy of our pride in them.

BAND OFFICERS Standing: Clifton Shannon, President; Roxann Gas tiger, Librarian. Sitting: Timothy Zimmerman, Vice President; Winifred Zimmerman, Secretary; Jennifer Zufall, Librarian.

Three groups at Forbes High School are the Band Parents, the band managers, and the Swingers of Seville. The Band Parents provide money for any band needs and award jackets to all Senior Band members. They are presently trying to raise money for new band uniforms for next year.

The band managers take care of instruments and other band supplies and see that they get to and from school activities such as football games and parades.

The Swingers of Seville, a popular, modern, brass group, organized at school, play for many community activities and also at several school assemblies.

Persistence in the face of overwhelming odds characterizes the '69 Forbes football team. While we may have been outclassed in several games, our boys were never outhustled. Despite this year's disappointing record, Coaches Erdmann and Boyd have great potential talent for next year's squad, which promises to be one of the finest in recent years.

Under the tutelage of Coach David Long, basketball mentor at Forbes, the varsity basketball team gave good account of themselves. With the departure of a half-dozen seniors from last year's squad, the emphasis shifted to youth. Three underclassmen earned starting positions, and with the talent to fill the other two berths, Forbes should be tough to handle in the next two years.

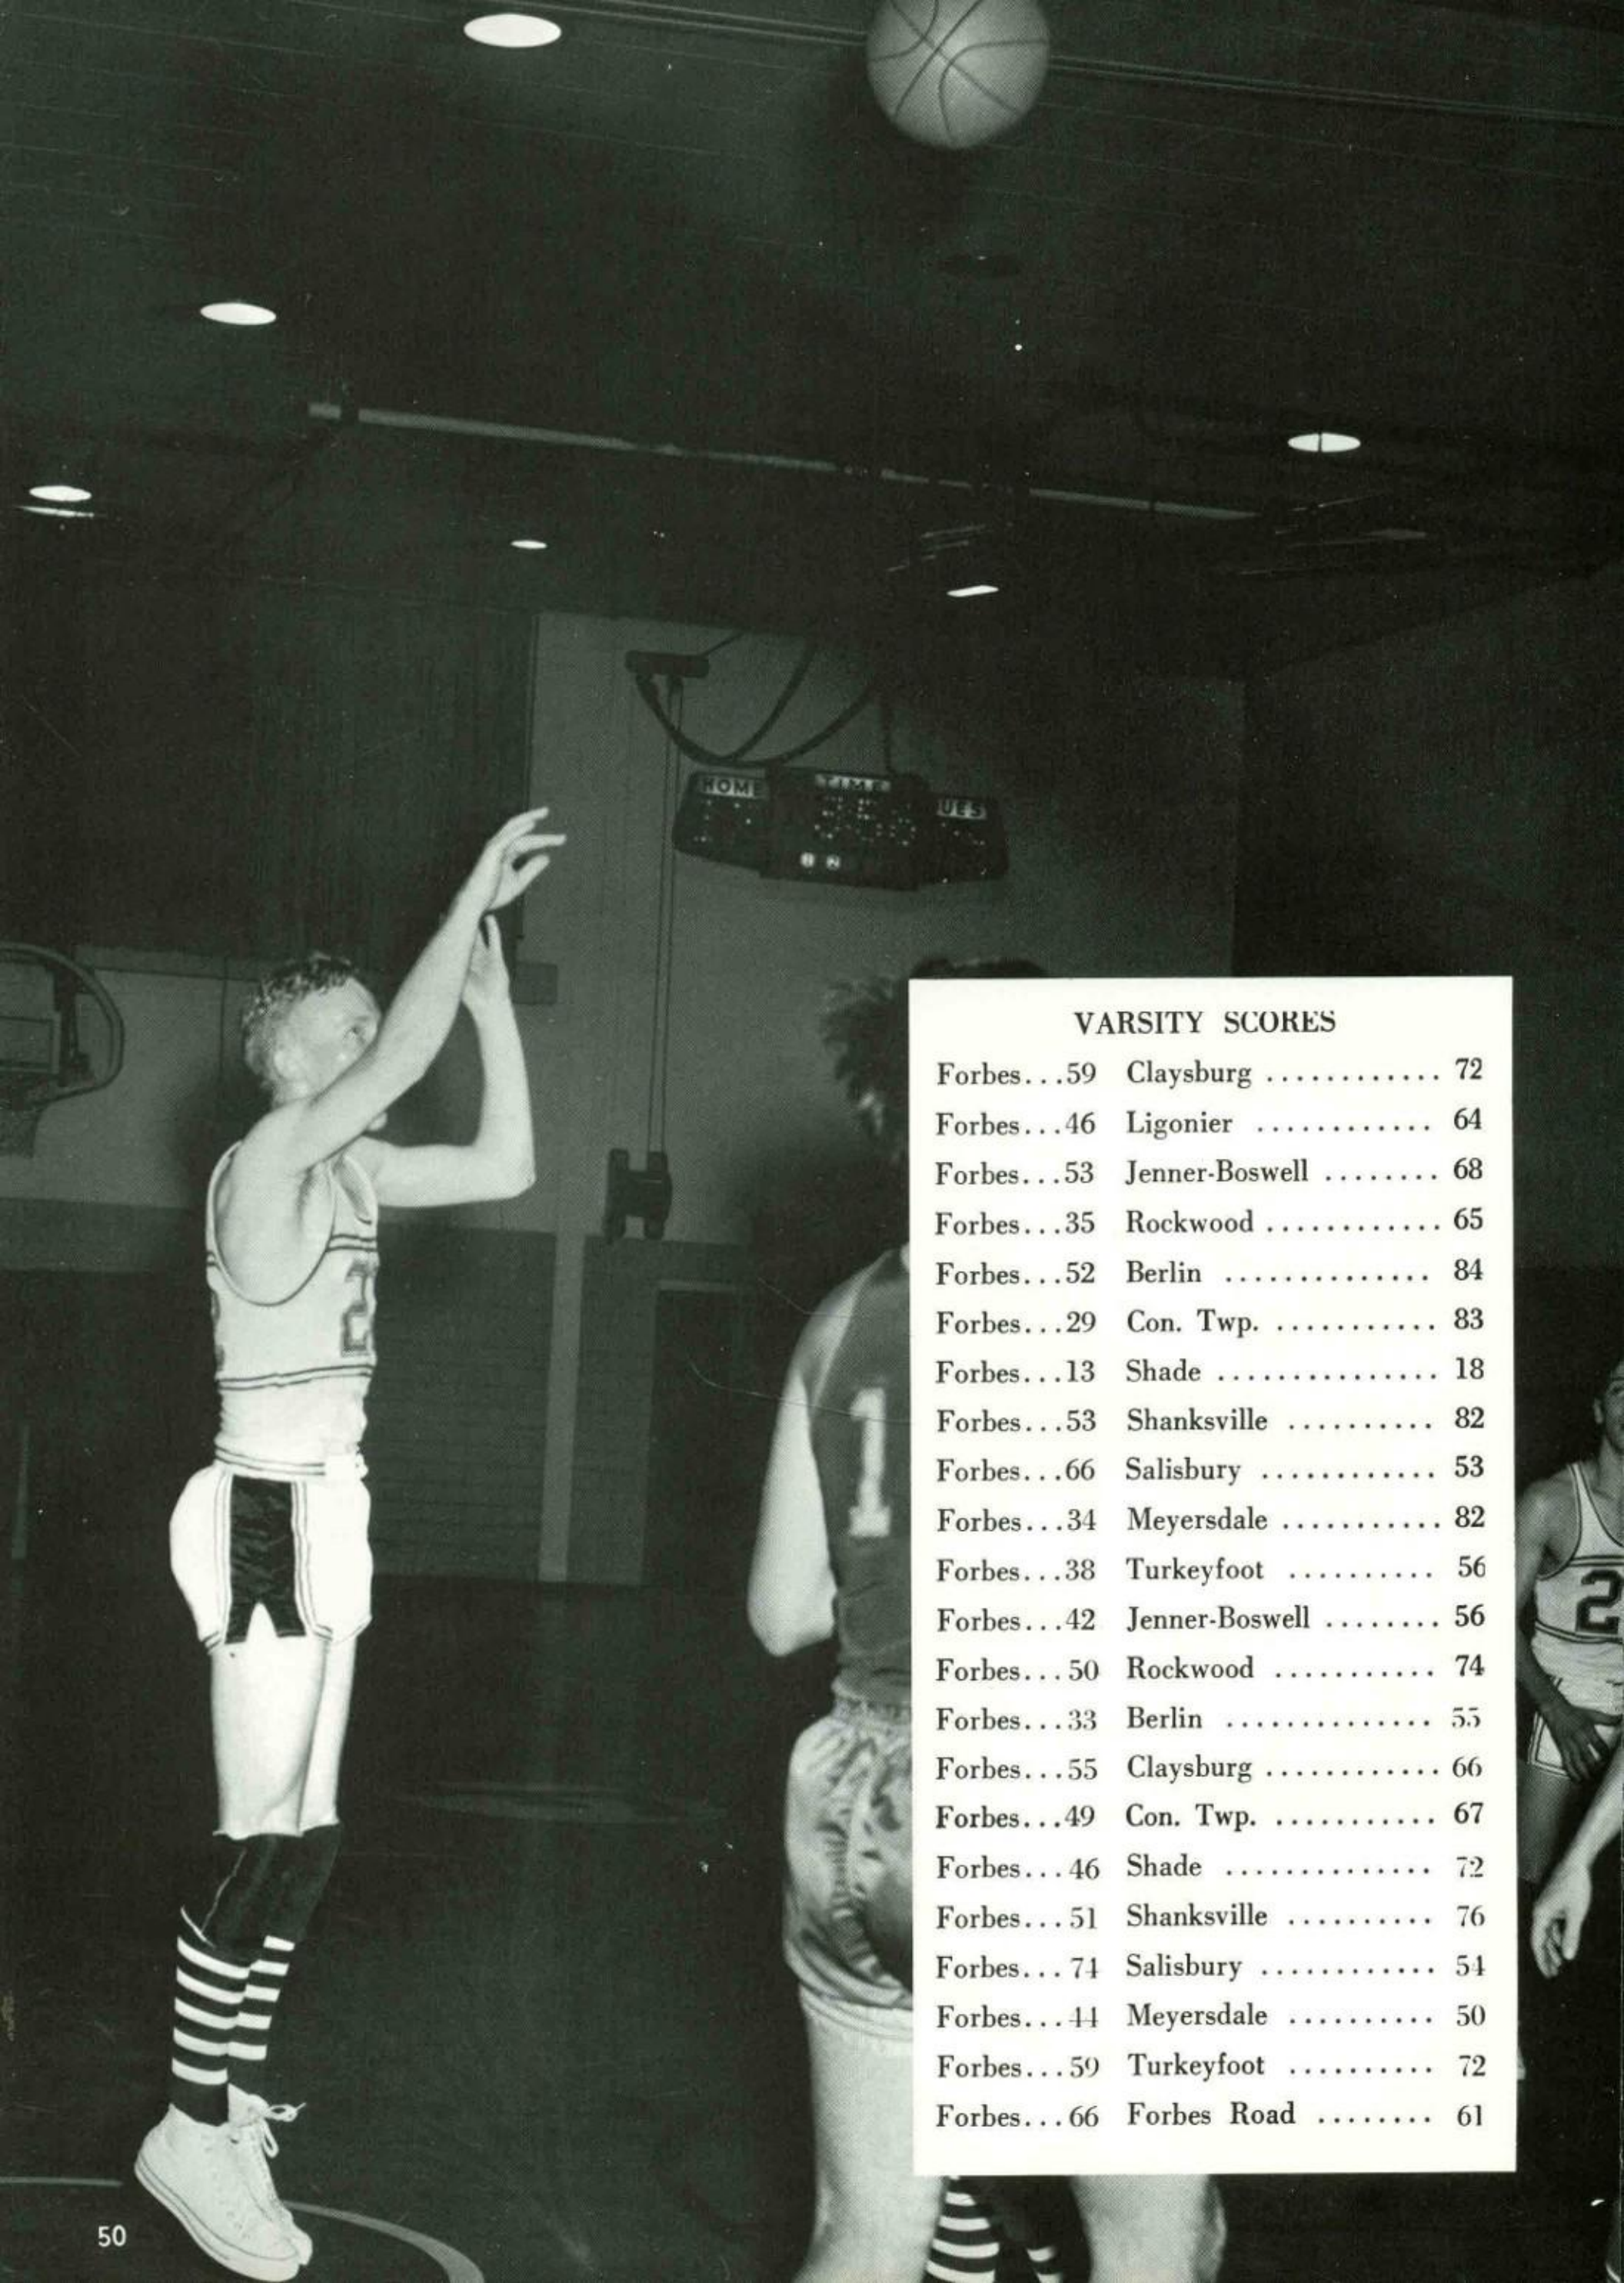

Coach Al Page faced a rebuilding task this year, with only one J.V. starter back, but the boys made up for inexperience with desire and hustle. Coach Page can look forward to a more mature, seasoned team next year.

1968-1969 was a very busy year for Forbes' girl athletes. Under the supervision of Miss Reighard a girls volleyball team was added to the basketball program. Our volleyball team participated in an invitational tournament at the Johnstown Rehab Center. The girls consistently acquitted themselves well. This year's basketball teams lacked the necessary experience, but hard work and determination pulled them through. With most of her girls returning, Miss Reighard can look forward to next year.

Golf Supplemented the Sports Program

Golf was added to the sports picture at Forbes this year. Under the guidance of Mr. Dickey and Mr. Page, boys from grades 7 to 12 golfed after school and on weekends. Forbes dominated the fairways, finishing undefeated in three-way match play, and carrying off the county golf league trophy. Forbes' successful freshman season in golf reflects the drive and enthusiasm that our boys felt. We hope next year's team will at least equal this year's outstanding effort.

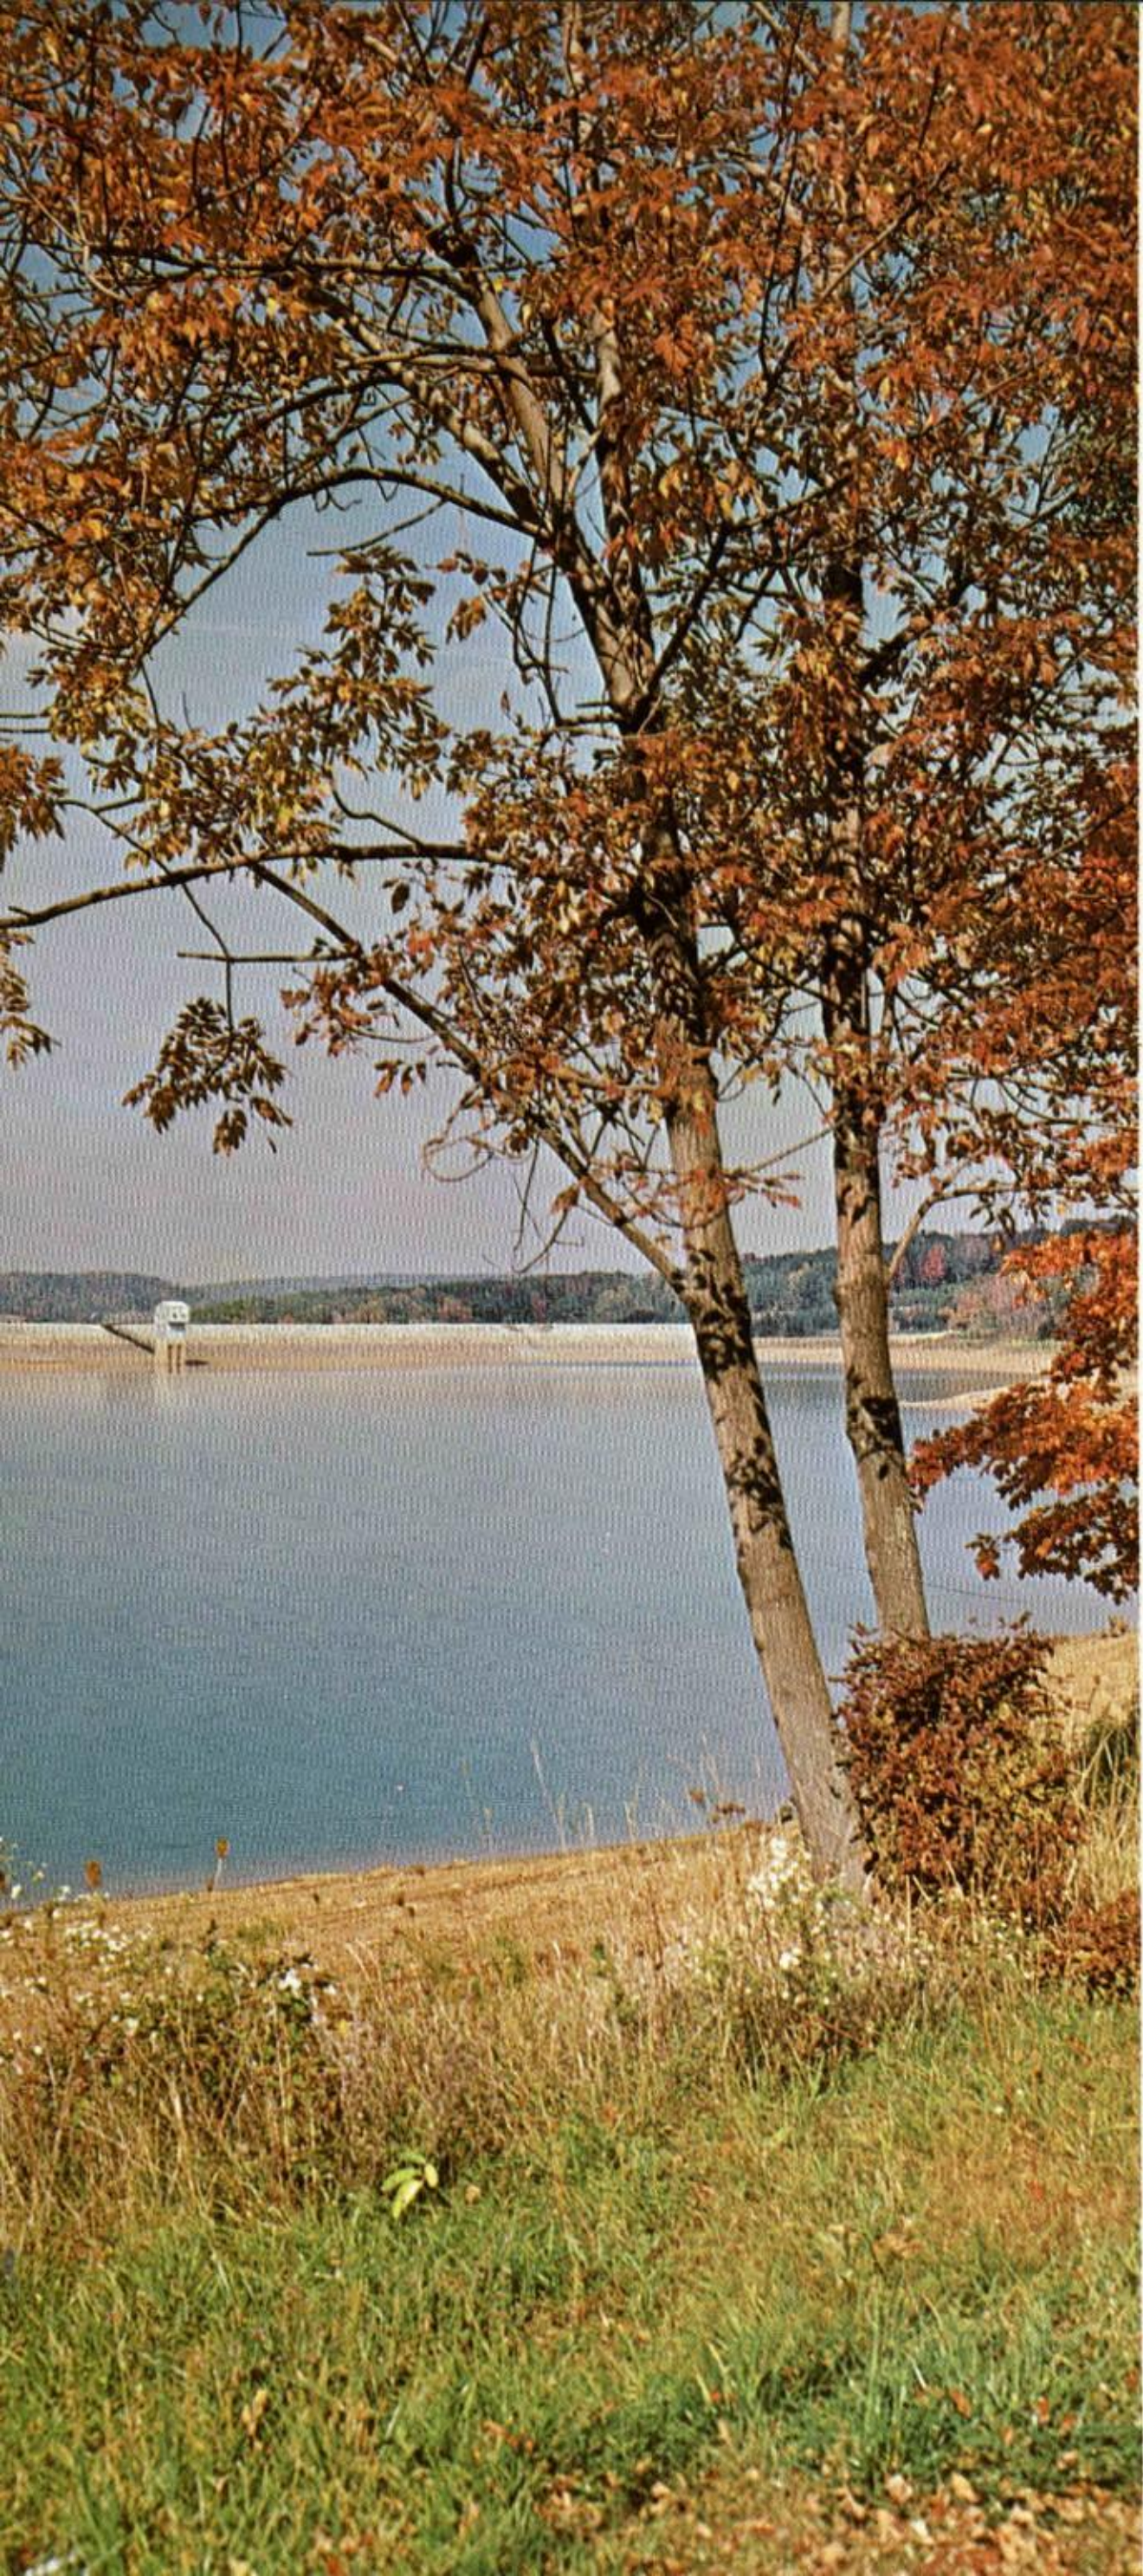

MAROON AND WHITE ROYALTY Kathy Sigmund, Tom Miller, Marcia Lohr, Michael Fuschino.

Maroon and White Day sponsored by the Student Council was started on February 26, 1957. Its purpose was to display our school colors. A King and Queen of Maroon and White were chosen from the senior high and Prince and Princess were chosen from the junior high.

Every year since the school has set aside a day for the students to display their school spirit. Our students have shown that they are proud of their school colors. In the future we hope to have 100 per cent of the students dressed in maroon and white.

Blossoms of Love

The entertainment of the evening

The class of '69 held the Junior Prom on Thursday, May 9, 1968, in the Tuscany Room at Green Gables. In the setting of "Blossoms of Love," many couples danced to the music of the Sandels. Everything combined to make it a night to remember for many seniors and juniors.

Sitting this one out

Dancing 'til the last minute

A Night to Remember

Livening it up a bit

This year's play was a three act comedy based on the novel "One Foot In Heaven" by Hartzell Spence. It is the story of a minister and his family in 1910.

The play was a success thanks to the directing of Mrs. Frances Trent. We hope all who saw enjoyed it.
